Abstract: This paper presents a decentralized auction- based approach to pricing of edge-allocated bandwidth in a differentiated services Internet. The players in our network economy...
...and brokers, and show the existence of networkwide market equilibria. In addition to pricing, another key consideration in building differentiated network services is the feasibility of maintaining stable and consistent service level agreements across multiple networks where demand-driven dynamic allocations are made only at the edges. Based...

... the stability of the game, which determines the sustainability of any set of service level agreement configurations between Internet service providers. These analytical results are validated with simulations of user and...

(Fed grand jury, Baltimore, strongly criticizes Atty Gen Mitchell for refusing to authorize new indictments based on jury's probe of Govt corruption; among other cases, jury has been probing construction contracts on $12-million underground parking garage near Rayburn House Office Bldg; jury probed possible involvement of Sen R B Long in helping contractor settle additional claims from Govt for bldg expenses; leading contractor on job was Baltimore Contractors Inc; Long has denied any wrongdoing; jury deputy foreman Taylor tells Chief Judge Thomsen that US Atty Sachs, who led probes, agrees with jury's decision to indict; gives Thomsen sealed envelope containing proposed indictment and asks Justice Dept bring formal charges based on it; Thomsen orders it kept secret and copy sent to Mitchell; Sachs says he agrees with jury's recommendations but did not sign indictment because of Mitchell's orders; Justice Dept says probe will be revd further)

(Canadian wheat farmers fervently hope that forthcoming Geneva negotiations for new International Wheat Agreement will be successful. Discussions will cover, among other subjects, the stocking system to be used to support prices, and levels at which prices would be supported. Canada, US and most other participants favor flexible stocking system which would be appreciated or decreased in response to movements of an indicator price, based on quotes for 6 key types of wheat traded in world commerce. Stocks would be held by individual countries, rather by international bodies, as is case for other commodities. Total of 1.1 Billion bushels would be held by 5 major exporters as reserve against shortages. EEC favors more rigid pricing arrangement stipulating minimum and maximum levels without regard to indicator price. Agreement could strengthen wheat prices toward end of Canada's crop year, ending July 31 (M).)
